Southern Cross University understands the transformative power of the written word.

That's why we are proud sponsors of the 2022 Byron Writers Festival. We share the passion of reading, learning, exploring and embracing the wonder of a well-told story.

2022 Radical hope

I HAVE A FEELING OF IMMENSE EXCITEMENT WITH a tinge of nervous energy as I bring you my first program as Artistic Director of Byron Writers Festival, an event with a stellar reputation that draws authors and audiences from afar to soak up three days of fresh ideas, compelling storytelling and buzzing conversations.

What does it mean to bring back this beloved festival after a two-year hiatus, in the wake of pandemic, fires and floods? What role do the arts play in binding our community?

To me, writers festivals are at the forefront of making our culture, a forum where our deepest thinkers can put forward their visions for another world. We hear perspectives from people who have lived different experiences to our own. They are a space to broaden the mind and wonder at the power literature and words have to connect us.

Right now we need so deeply to reconnect, to reflect. If there is any silver lining to be gained from our recent experiences, it is that we can mobilise to adapt right now.

I want us to reflect on our power at this year's festival. It lies in our ability to act together as a community, caring for one another in the common interest. Climate change is knocking on our front door. We need to empower people of all genders and backgrounds. First Nations communities still need to be front and centre of this quest.

Now is the time for a radical kind of hope, that imagines the world anew, that refuses to be defeated and finds delight and joy in everything this wonderful life and earth have to offer.

I invite you to join some of our greatest thinkers and finest writers at this year's Byron Writers Festival, to celebrate the power of words to transcend our current reality.

At this year's festival you will hear from social and environmental experts on how we can tackle the challenge that is climate change. You will be uplifted by listening to our most gifted storytellers explaining how they celebrate the human condition and render our experiences so magnificently on the page. You will meet talented emerging and established writers who are challenging the status quo. In hearing and engaging with these ideas you are playing your part in making the world anew and I am very much looking forward to welcoming you.

Finally, I want to thank the wonderful partners and supporters who make this event possible and extend a huge shout-out to the hard-working festival team and volunteers. It is a privilege to work with such a dedicated and passionate group of people.

Zoë Pollock
Artistic Director

Held on the lands of the Arakwal Bumberbin and Minjungbal peoples of the Bundjalung Nation, we pay respect to the traditional owners of these lands and acknowledge them as the original storytellers of this region.

Fiona Foley is a visual artist and academic. Her publication, Biting the Clouds, is a groundbreaking work of Indigenous scholarship that addresses the inherent silences, errors and injustices from the perspective of the Badtjala people of K'gari (Fraser Island). Fiona shines a critical light on the little-known colonial-era practice of paying Indigenous workers in opium and the 'solution' of then displacing them to K'gari.

IRINA DUNN, Director of the Australian Writers Network, is a well-known manuscript assessor, editor and literary agent.

She is the author of The Writer's Guide: Writing for Pleasure or Publication (Allen & Unwin).

The best decision I made was to give my manuscripts to Irina Dunn. Not only did Irina edit my fiction and non-fiction manuscripts, but she also found publishers for them all. Irina has had decades of experience in the industry. She is an expert editor with a meticulous eye, and she understands the tenets of fiction. Writers can learn a lot from her constructive criticism. Irina cleaned up my manuscripts, giving them a polished and professional feel. There's nothing like signing book contracts, and I have Irina to thank for that!

Nature Writing

With Inga Simpson

THURSDAY 25 AUGUST

10am—4pm

Habitat
$145/$110 Members & Students

This workshop explores ways of writing more ecologically, to narrow the divide between the human and more-than-human worlds, while engaging the reader. Through discussion of examples and a range of exercises, we'll explore the notion of authenticity, the intersection of inner and outer landscapes, and the creative potential of research.

The Truth is in the Detail

With Eleanor Limprecht

THURSDAY 25 AUGUST

10am—4pm

Byron Community Centre
$145/$110 Members & Students

The truth of the story lies in the detail.
Paul Auster

If we are writing about a subject we do not know intimately, we will inevitably have to undertake research to find the details that will make our writing come to life. What are these details and how do we find them?

How To Write Satire

With Charles Firth

THURSDAY 25 AUGUST

1pm—4pm

Byron Community Centre
$85/$60 Members & Students

Satirical comedy writing is a dreary affair of unimaginable pain and suffering. But it's a good way to get incredibly rich quickly. This course gives you all the tips and tricks you need to quit your day job. Includes a look at the technical side of comedy, as well as tips on what to do with the mountains of cash that you'll have to wade through each morning.

Kids Big Day Out

Sunday 28 August

Kids Big Day Out returns with a stellar line-up of authors and performers making for a fun-packed program of stories, comedy and storytelling.

A perfect outing for the whole family. The StoryBoard Bus is onsite hosting a workshop space where kids can create their own stories alongside acclaimed authors and storytellers. See Session 74 on Sunday's Program for the full schedule.

Summerland Sanctuary

Take some time out in the Summerland Sanctuary, a shaded space to sit, relax and discuss the conversations and big ideas over festival weekend.

Supported by Summerland Credit Union

Indigenous Literacy Foundation (ILF)

Byron Writers Festival 2022 is fundraising for the important work undertaken by ILF. Please help close the literacy gap and make a donation in the orange boxes around the festival site or at the ILF tent.

Information and AUSLAN Registration Tent

Visit our information tent for site maps, program updates, or to ask one of our friendly volunteers a question. Information tent volunteers can also assist patrons who require an AUSLAN interpreter or wheelchair and mobility assistance.

PEN The Empty Chair

The Empty Chair in some of our festival sessions symbolises a writer who could not be present on stage because they have been imprisoned, detained, disappeared, threatened or killed.

STONE
& WOOD

TURNING THE PAGE...

After a few unprecedented years apart, it's time to come back together in conversation.

Stone & Wood are proud to be a partner to the Byron Writers Festival, bringing creativity and conversation back to the fertile ground of the Northern Rivers.

Sponsors of this year's Sunday Locals' passes, we hope this initiative provides the chance for new and returning audiences to enjoy this outstanding cultural event in our region.

We pay our respects to the people of the Bundjalung nation, traditional custodians of the land where we work, live and read books.

Enjoy the festival and remember, books and beer are not mutually exclusive joys.
